

Confessions of an Economic Hit Man

by John Perkins

CONFESSIONS OF AN ECONOMIC HIT MAN is a geopolitical masterpiece of grand proportions.

Perkins precisely articulates not only why there is a growing wake of discontent and lack spreading like a contagion across the Western Hemisphere in the early 21st Century, but even moreso, he offers the foundation for Restoration.

In this first-person expose on the ultimate and seriously grave perils of debt-trap diplomacy, Perkins does more than 'confess': he provides the core tenets of a redemptive strategy for making past wrongs right so that the truth of "All Gain Sum"TM can trump the myth of the zero-sum game.

In an ensuing 'sequel' update over a decade later, Perkins keenly laments how so few have actually taken the offer to pursue the great reward that awaits those who pursue authentic Solidarity.

Across the gamut of Admission, Resolution and Lament, Perkins is cogent.

In no uncertain terms, his transparency set the table for The Resonance[®] and his intrepidity reinforces the backbone of CONCENTRIC's worldview, NOW.

In essence, it is impossible to envision resolution to our world's most serious problems without being briefed by Perkins' writings and aligned with his ensuing strategies for redemption.

In that alliance resides the motivation to 'get it right'. LET'S GO.
